Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
When Jason was nine, his mom gave him her camera to snap some pictures. Jason took a few photos of the local flora and much to the chagrin of his mother, proceeded to open the camera to see what the film looked like. Despite this inauspicious start, Jason fell in love with photography in his high school dark room. He went on to study photography at the Rochester Institute of Technology, traveled the world assisting some amazing photographers, spent a few years working as a full time photographer at QVC, and now is an independent editorial and corporate photographer who specializes in portraits and fashion. He lives in Philadelphia with his wife Heather and two cats, Manders and Avett.
