6 Things to Consider when Buying Hotel Room safes

SIZE

The size of the safe is an important factor to consider. Safes come in many different sizes and types, so select the one that fits your needs.

WEIGHT

If the safe weighs more, then it can simply give more protection. When buying a safe make sure it has fire rating, as those safe are very heavy.

FIRE RESISTENT

Make sure the safe you buy has fire resistant property providing the best level of fire- proof protection you may need.

UL RATING

UL (Underwriters Laboratories) rating is again an important factor which tells about the level of fire resistance for safes and file cabinets.

LOCKING MECHANISM

Consider the type of locking mechanism like key locking, dial mechanism, electronic lock, card swipe, etc. Electronic safe provide better convenience and safety.

THICKNESS

The thickness of safe's door and wall are of great importance. Consider the thickness when buying a safe is a way to ensure safety.

With the above tips, make sure to shop a safe from a reputable dealer like
