Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

GLÖTZL is the creative imaging workshop of Jeff Glötzl. Based in Richmond, Virginia, the company provides clever solutions to visual problems utilizing retouching, photography, and CGI

Previous Clientele

Nike, Haynes, BF Goodrich, Arby's, Pfizer, Capital One, Girl Scouts, Alcoa, Dupont, HGTV-Home, Walmart, Anthem Blue Cross, MeadWestvaco, Stihl, Sirius Satellite Radio, nTelos, AMF Bowling, Performance Food Group, Smithfield Foods, Fannie Mae, Science Museum of Virginia, Virginia Lottery, American Cancer Society, Dominion Resources, Give an Hour, Wounded Warrior Project, Virginia Cancer Institute, Bon Secours Health Systems, State Fair of Virginia, and United Way to name a few.

Awards and Accolades

A born tinkerer and builder of things, as well as a graduate of The New England School of Photography, Jeff has forged a reputation in the industry as a consummate craftsman, bringing his meticulous eye and perennial curiosity to every assignment. His work as a photographer, retoucher, digital tech, studio manager, darkroom technician, prop stylist, location scout and set builder has allowed him to see and experience image making from every angle. His years of making art (and making art better) culminated in 2005 with the founding of GLÖTZL. Working directly with photographers, agencies and designers, Jeff crafts images for clients such as Nike, B.F. Goodrich and Pfizer. He is regularly tapped to plan how various pieces of a composite image can be best shot or acquired and then assembled in the most realistic and cost effective fashion. His practical knowledge of lenses and lighting techniques informs his retouching work, and he can fluently "talk tech" with photographers and art producers in the language of f/stops and ink limits.

Please contact him to discuss your upcoming project or current emergency.

By 0700,
Eric's convoy was on the road.

At 0800,
an IED exploded.

At 2200,
he woke from surgery.
It was his first conscious moment as an amputee.
