Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm a freelance digital artist living in the USA.

I specialize in photo illustration and creative retouching for the advertising, marketing and publishing industries.

As an artist, I believe the drive to create has been embedded into my DNA – it's the essence that breathes passion and life into the work I create. Being an artist isn't merely my profession – it's my life's purpose.

My objective with every assignment is to create captivating and compelling artwork which inspire people.

The Awesome Robocop Retouching Contest

A few weeks back, I posted a full behind the scenes blog about my Robocop photoshoot. I had such a fun time with the shoot and final images that I figured others may enjoy playing with my Phase One M10 raw files as well. I posted a contest on my personal photography blog that challenged people to re-interpret Robocop using up to 8 of my supplied Phase One RAW files. There was hundreds of entries from across the globe a handful of star-studded judges to review the entries.

THE CONTEST WINNER:

Congrats Jeff! Excellent, creative, and clean execution. There were so many awesome entries, but your retouching work really stood out among us judges. You should be proud!

I hope everyone enjoyed all of these creative entries! There was such wonderful variety and creative energy that came through in this contest. It was really hard to choose the winner and everyone should know that we appreciated and reviewed every image.
