Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

After launching her career as a freelancer, Jenna worked for Quark, Inc., where for five years she created high impact packaging, ad campaigns and marketing materials on their in-house design team. In 1997, she opened her own design and illustration studio, and has since made it her goal to have the happiest clients on the planet. Jenna earned a BFA in graphic design from the University of the Pacific. She lives on Vashon Island, a short ferry ride from Seattle, with her husband and two daughters.
