Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I run a small creative graphic and web design company based in Bromley, South East London. My aim is to bring real impact to your brand, your website, your printed material, and most importantly, your business.

As a small business, I find that I can offer my clients a cost-effective resource with all the trimmings of a large agency or design group but with substantially fewer overheads. You benefit from working directly with me and I will personally see your project through to completion, on time and on budget.
