Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Los Angeles based still life and architecture photographer. Jon has been shooting food and tabletop for over 10 years and has been in the photographic industry for over 20 years. He found his love for photography as a kid. It wasn't till 1998 that he decided to follow his love for it, and moved to Santa Barbara the following summer to continue his education at Brooks Institute of Photography. After graduating he moved to Los Angeles and started working with some of the leading photographers in the industry. After five years as an assistant he opened his own doors as a commercial photographer and found his passion had specialized in table top photography
