Awards and Accolades
Then his passion became his job when he first was asked for design works, while he was still going to school. Selected artist in the category «Electronic Arts» of the Biennal of Young Creators from Europe and the Mediterra- nean in 2001, he benefited from the medias back up of this great event to make himself known through his artistic works, in order to carry off personnal projects, parallel to his works on order.

He has always been devoted in sharing his knowledge and views on graphic design as a part of the team of journalists working in the «Studio Multimedia» French magazine, published by Posse Press. He also published books on Photoshop and GIMP, and recorded a whole e-learning course on Photoshop for Weecast.tv, using a screencasting process. He is now a Photoshop educator in one the best european visual effects school : Art FX.

He is looking for works & collaborations in art direction, static & rich media design, regardless of their worldwide location, to go further in his visual style and research.
