Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

After taking up Architecture in college, he took different jobs while also working as a freelance illustrator. This involves being part of a marketing and events team. Dedicated to his craft, he further explored new media and studied web design. He moved to Singapore a couple of years ago, where he was able to polish his skills conceptualizing, planning, and designing various projects. While currently working as an in-house creative director, he continues to dedicate his free time to illustration and painting.
