Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

An award-winning creative and business writer, with a marketing background.

I've worked with a wide range of local, national and global organisations. With brands, products and services of all shapes and sizes. From household names to entrepreneurial start-ups. And across a broad variety of media.

My former background in senior agency account management means I understand strategic and commercial marketing issues -so I am more than just a wordsmith. I'm a Swiss Army knife of writing, with one goal: to help my clients communicate effectively.
