Marc Hall

View the full portfolio at http://www.thecreativefinder.com/

Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
I’m pretty passionate about academic writing, and I really enjoy learning how the research process actually moves from that first draft, to the final submission. Over the years i’ve, sort of built up this steady curiosity for thesis binding, document formatting,and all those small things that help students put their work forward in a professional way. I’ll often dig around for best practices for getting dissertations ready, improving manuscript quality, and making sure everything matches what the university asks for during submission. Outside of school-ish topics, I also like reading, kind of staying in lifelong learning, and sharing practical insights that make complicated steps feel more understandable.

Previous Clientele
Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Awards and Accolades
Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Awards and Accolades
Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Marc Hall

View the full portfolio at http://www.thecreativefinder.com/