Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Marie-Louise Plum is a British illustrator based in London.

Working freehand in pen and ink, Marie-Louise creates creepy-cute, wacky characters and fantastical vignettes full of mischief and humour.

As well as good ol' fashioned editorial illustration, Marie has worked on a varied range of illustration projects (see 'Ink & Mess' at http://www.marielouiseplum.com) including a large scale wall piece for Forest Hall in Edinburgh, custom made Moleskine design for Modofly and wooden puzzles, one which even made it in to the Victoria & Albert Museum, London.

2009 saw the incarnation of her contemporary spirit masks, with live art installations taking place in Edinburgh, London and South East. A solo exhibition of art and illustration is scheduled to tour the UK from spring 2010.

If you would like to get in touch regarding a personal commission or project proposal please do get in touch by email mail [at] marielouiseplum.com.

Previous Clientele
I have recently completed editorial work for Yuck'n'Yum, Free for Charity and Hello Oppy.

I have also recently completed a large wall mural for artist led creative community Forest Hall in Edinburgh.

I also work for and with other artists to produce innovative mixed media creations, including illustrated mask installations and wall murals. My most recent mask installations were for Sarah Ruff's Freak Show and Artists and Makers pop-up shops in Worthing.

I am currently looking for editorial commissions and also more off the wall projects - I can draw on literally anything!
