Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Throughout his twelve year career as a web designer, illustrator and Creative Director Mario has worked with some of the top iGaming and web application development companies to conceptualise, develop and carefully maintain brands, user interfaces and other media channels for marketing and advertising.

On a freelance basis he also works closely with design and web development agencies to service them with quality work, he believes that the best results are achieved through personal approach. Mario hails from the tiny and sunny island of Malta but he is currently based in Brussels where he loves eating mussels and tasting different beers from Belgium's staggering 125 breweries.
