Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Mauricio Candela is an award-winning commercial photographer and director based in Miami, Florida, specializing in lifestyle, celebrity, and sports photography for brands, advertising agencies, and production companies across the United States and worldwide.Before picking up a camera professionally, Mauricio spent over a decade as an art director and creative director at leading advertising agencies in Colombia — building campaigns, directing talent, and learning how visual storytelling works from the inside out. That advertising background is what separates his approach: he doesn't just take pictures, he builds images with strategy, intent, and a clear understanding of what brands need.Since moving to the United States in 1999, he has worked at the intersection of advertising and photography — producing lifestyle campaigns, celebrity and athlete portraits, sports productions, on-set stills for TV commercials, and video content across every major market.He was born in Colombia. He shoots everywhere.
