Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Melodic Virtue, located on a hill adjacent to a train yard, above the skeletal remains of an abandoned mine shaft in Southern Indiana, is the studio of freelance designer and musician Aaron Tanner. He has over a decade of experience designing across multiple mediums and has been published in well-respected books and magazines around the world. When not working diligently on projects for clients or touring with his band Stationary Odyssey, you'll find him volunteering at universities to help mentor future designers or playing catch in the backyard with his son.
