Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am a freelance illustrator/author seeking work with a progressive, fun publisher of material for children. I've illustrated over 25 activity books for Williamson Publishing and have contributed to every issue of Kids Discover magazine for over 18 years. I can (and typically do) work without a great deal of direction.

The wobbly corners of my drawing table are set level with documents such as The 1999 EdPress Golden Lamp Award, the 1996, 1997, & 2005 Parent's Choice Gold Award, The Oppenheim Toy Portfolio Best Book, Children's Book Council Notable Children's Book, Benjamin Franklin Best Multicultural Book Award, and Learning Magazine's Teachers' Choice Award.

The areas of highest honor in my office however, are reserved for letters and artwork from normal, everyday children—like myself.

Amazon.com, the New York Times, Ringling Brothers Barnum & Bailey, HGTV, Paula Poundstone, Reader's Digest, Lands' End, SpiceBox (in Canada), Red Communications (in Malaysia), Kids Discover magazine, Williamson Publishing, Family Fun magazine, Storey Publishing, and Ideals Publishing
