8 Simple Tips that Will Help You Write More Effectively

1

Write down your ideas

Write down all your ideas immediately because there is a great chance that you'll forget them right away. Take a sketchbook with you wherever you go.

2

Do the Research

Doing research on the topic and making a framework of the project is a half of your success. What's important, use only reliable and checked sources.

3

Don't edit your writings

Constant switches between creativity and critical part of your brain may reduce your productivity. So it's better to proofread your work afterwards.

4

Don't overuse boring details

While writing a draft, try to skip dates, figures or other details that are not important for a plot or the whole sense.

5

Call a Friend

If you got stuck with your writing, just pick up a phone and call your friend. Talking about the topic of your writing can help you come up with new ideas.

6

Avoid places with Internet access

Any place with WiFi can become a big destruction. Avoiding them will help concentrate on writing or, which is much better, editing.

7

Write 500 words a day

The more you write, the more you understand how to do it correctly. Practice will help you become better and more creative in your writing.

8

Finally, edit your writing

Proofreading or editing is the last stage of the whole process. Check everything you wrote and correct all mistakes.

How to Get Rid of All Mistakes

- 1 Read the whole text out loud.
- 2 Reread and proofread your writing twice.
- 3 Use dictionaries if you doubt.
- 4 Let someone read your writing and correct mistakes.
- 5 Leave your writing for a while and come back to it later.
