Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

An unconventional illustrator from London, the media I work in ranges from camera-less photography through to carving typography into vegetables. I live for the moments in creating that are hit or miss, those fleeting now-or-never moments when you push down the shutter button or add that second more developing on a solar plate. If I can edit and undo things, it's simply not worthy.

Currently studying at London College of Communications, University of the Arts London.
