Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Professors highly recommend students to present an outline for their wow essays that shows how they are progressing. Even if you are not required to submit an outline first, it would be wise if you wrote first before you start working on the final product. To do this, ensure you analyze how you will frame your introduction and paragraphs to nudge the instructor towards reading the entire piece of paper. Writing an outline provides a roadmap for your teacher how you will start and complete your essay. A good outline will describe your thesis and ideas to be included in every paragraph.
