Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Born and raised in London, British photographer Nathalie Gordon shoots with an unusual but fantastic hyper realistic style. Her work is packed with high sheen and edge, yet she is able to maintain a realistic and believable representation of her subjects.

Her use of high flash and big gloss, keep you on the edge they keep you wanting more. Whether it be a flashy advertising campaign or a social realism vignette. Nathalie's personalised combination of beautiful snapshots, suggestions of human feelings and emotion explodes through a photorealistic slant.

Known for being strong and original, Nathalie references from the great masters of photography; David LaChapelle, Helmut Newton and Miles Aldridge. She is definitely one to watch.
