Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm a food obsessed, orchid loving, science geek, dog mom design junkie from Johannesburg, South Africa. I live for illustration and typography, I talk about it all the time, think about it constantly and spend a lot of my free time creating it. I always have multiple passion projects rolling around in my head (I like to plan them there first before I put pen to Wacom). To afford bread and butter, my day job is a freelance creative, I work for my own clients as well as marketing, branding and advertising agencies in various different roles. As I can design, art direct, illustrate and animate I generally float between creative and digital departments.
