Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Onomatopoeic is a digital print and graphic design shop run by yours truly. I am devoted to exploring new modes of making, with a focus on making the fruits of generative and computational design more accessible to the masses. I believe in the power of small things; they can pack a powerful aesthetic punch and can make all the difference in transforming the mood of any space. Onomatopoeic strives to bring Etsy lovers the best and brightest of those small things.
