Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
North West based commercial photographer Paul Adams specialises in location based portraiture and architectural photography.

Throughout Paul's photographic career he has worked with many clients including ad agencies, designers, magazines, pr companies and is often commissioned by individual companies to shoot their website imagery or update their corporate photography.

In recent years Paul has moved into the architectural photography, not the standard photography of buildings, but a more creative approach to how buildings interact with light and the landscape. This has culminated in an extensive portfolio of photographs of Manchester, Liverpool and other areas of the North West.
