Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Paul Clemence is an architect, artist, author, and an award-winning photographer exploring the cross sections of design, art and architecture. His work is part of many collections, including the Vasari Project in Miami and The Mies van der Rohe Archives housed by MoMA, New York. He exhibits both in the U.S. and on the international fine art circuit, from classic B & W prints to large scale photo installations. His work can also be seen in major design and lifestyle publications and his “Mies van der Rohe’s Farnsworth House” book is, to date, the most comprehensive photographic documentation of that iconic Modern house. “Architecture Photography”, his Facebook photography page, quickly became a global photography and architecture community, with close to 30 000 followers worldwide. US born, but raised and educated in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, Clemence currently is based in Brooklyn, New York.
