Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Over two decades of professional experience creating illustration and design for the international marketplace.

My customer-centric focus means I design each project to meet your sales goals, not just design what looks good. I target your specific audience and always produce quantifiable results.

How? First, I know how to listen. I learn about your needs and goals. Then I take the time to research the market, see what the competition is doing and identify the target. Only then do I create, using business savvy and keen market insight for the perfect balance between art and commerce.
