Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
The PULP brand was created as a result of a collaboration between two families – Covo and Federbusch – who share a longstanding passion for paper products.

At PULP, we design, produce and market creative and inspirational products for your desktop. Some products are custom designed as limited editions and others are developed for mass production.

Our production processes are based on traditional manufacturing methods combined with advanced technologies and a culture of sustainability. Whenever possible, PULP uses eco-friendly and recycled materials, carefully selected for their quality and beauty.
