Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

ZINK is a design and animation studio that specializes in brand identity, experimental design, music videos, commercial production, motion graphics, and interactive content creation. We love to collaborate with our clients to bring their brand to life in compelling ways by integrating strategic and creative disciplines with irresistible visuals. The services that we offer are complete, to premium brands in a range of mediums from concept to execution.

ZINK was set up seven years ago by Emmy Award winning director Raj Dias, who has been directing and producing television spots globally for over fifteen years. Since then the company has won eighteen international awards with numerous accolades and continues to push the envelope of design driven direction and digital creation.
