Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am a graphic designer from Athens (Greece), who studied in London UK and has been experienced in the fields of branding, visual communication, corporate identity, web environments, packaging and print. My personal interests also involve illustration, photography, painting and handcrafting clothes and accessories.

In my work, I favour the combination of creativity and aesthetic simplicity that does the job without unnecessary noise. Creativity is the seed for great work, but I also believe in the importance of strategy and planning as a prerequisite for things to 'click'. Creating visual identities for companies and brands of all sizes is my passion, but this passion comes hand-in-hand with a good mix of rational thinking and professionalism.

My ultimate desire and my goal is to constantly inspire people through my work, make them smile and try to make them see things in a different perspective.
