Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
“From time to time there are going to be things that occur that are acts of God that cannot be prevented.” —Texas Gov. Rick Perry, May 3, 2010

Born and raised in London Ontario Canada (now living in beautiful Woodstock Ontario), I grew up wanting to be a fireman… But as luck would have it, my teachers in Elementary and High School noticed that I had something they referred to as “artistic ability”. Drawing dogs and cats playing together under brightly coloured rainbows might have been cool for some kids… but mine was designing huge “torture houses”… large, 20+ room mansions filled with the most diabolical inventions of evil I could think of, every room more perverse than the last… which quickly became the subject of a conversation between my parents, my teachers and my family Doctor. Fear not, all was well with little Steven ...it was just a phase.
