Born in 1975 in La Coruña. I grew up across many different places throughout Spain, moving from one city to another because of my father’s work. What it reinforces to me the necesity to adapt, change and continuous reinvent myself.

After getting my diploma in BA Industrial Design, i participated in a workshop by Toshiyuki Kita for the Vitra Design Museum (France), and finally in Milan (Italy), where i got the diploma of Master in Interior Design of the Politecnico di Milano, participating in several workshops headed by Andrea Branzi, Piero Lissoni, Stefano Giovanonni among others.

In Italy, I began to work with Aldo Cibic in Vicenza. Back in Milan I worked as freelance art director in Matteo Nunziati’s studio for Mobilidea and FEG/Salvarani group.

Once again in Spain, i create with Covadonga Carreño [www.covitaca.com] a design collective called SIESTALABS [www.siestalabs.com], we stopped designing after Valenci’as International Furniture Fair end the i went to Madrid to teach design at Alfonso X El Sabio and Camilo Jose Cela University, in the areas of Product Design, Visual Communication and Project Management.
