Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Born in the Windy City, Tony Garcia grew up nourished by deep dish pizza and a family of artists. So it's not very surprising that today he's an award-winning photographer with a studio in sunny southern California. But he still orders his pizza from Chicago. Tony has continuously evolved his style of work, keeping him on the short list of top agencies across the country and in Europe. He shoots digitally and uses high-res computer enhancement, digital compositing or whatever's needed to get the shot just right. When not shooting ads for the likes of Coke, Microsoft and Procter & Gamble, Tony can be found playing a mean defense in hockey or just kickin' back with his dogs. Shoot with Tony for great work with a global groove. And you might just get a genuine slice of Chicago.
