Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Terry W. Brown finds the intersection of form & function.

He is a creative professional whose work as a broadcast designer for television network affiliates led to a regional advertising agency (art direction for Verizon Wireless, Books-A-Million, The United States Golf Association, and numerous others; he also made a mark as an editorial illustrator during this time). He currently works with forge104, a digital creative studio which provides content and guidance to ad agencies, media companies and advertisers.

Previous Clientele

NBC, Cupcakes & Company, Verizon Wireless, U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament, U.S. Senior Open Golf Tournament, Books-A-Million
