Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Originally from Toronto, with a background in its fashion industry, Anita has lived in the dynamic, arts-driven city of Hamilton, Ontario since 2004.

The creative world has long been a part of Thomas' life and plays an important role in her approach to photography. Artistically, she has always favored dramatic styles, drawn to bold looks or unusual interpretations.

Her passions for aerial and aviation photography grew from the love she shares with her spouse, a private pilot. When not out riding motorcycles or shooting high-powered rockets, they're flying around Southern Ontario in a Cessna 172. Born of a fear of heights, aerial photography began as a distraction and quickly became a passion.
