Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I have been a graphic designer since 1989, which means I started with old school, paste-up layouts, worked on a Apple Mac Classic, and worked in Photoshop 1.0! As scary as that sounds, it just means that I have a trained eye for detail, and lots of patience.

In all that time, I have worked for publishers, sweated in the entertainment industry, rattled the cages of monster corporations and managed my own companies; I have lectured design students, discussed typography with Neville Brody, argued corporate design practice with Oliviero Toscani and laughed about legibility with David Carson...and all of that without ever taking a day's sick leave!

So...I can design
I can create
I can manage
I can lead
I can follow
I can play well with others
I can get the job done in time
