Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Kelly Arnold is a very unique, colorful and quirky illustrator, like a unicorn with a paintbrush for a horn. Hardworking and passionate about what she does, Kelly puts her all into everything she creates. Bringing her art to life in a vividly detailed style with a master sense of color, Kelly is actually a Goth Lisa Frank,--all the rainbows and unicorns further enhanced by naked women and monsters.

Though spending most of her day shut away in a studio drawing, she retains the poise to interact with humans in a warm and fun loving demeanor ideal for working with customers and clients. A natural people person, Kelly is an even better animal person, exemplified in her penchant for raising orphaned foster kittens (hence, her life much like her illustrations, usually include myriad animals and tiny kitten scratches). Despite overcoming crippling Dyslexia (which is super hard to spell on it's own), terminal laziness, and lycanthrope, Kelly's work thrives.

Kelly is available for In-House and Freelance Illustration work.
