Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Mixed with traditional and modern, eastern and western, freehand and digital, Dennis Juan Ma's illustration is full of energy and passion. Growing up in China he moved to New Zealand in his late teens. He studied graphic design at university and works as a graphic designer and illustrator. His work covers the area of fashion, graphic novel and editorial all bearing his unique mark. His work is bright, positive, graphical and with a sense of humor. It often contains different culture impact generates to an art fusion. I enjoy creating artwork by using daily materials, those ones which we often ignored or complained about. Ordinary life is my main inspiration and I love music and fashion.
